5th and 6th hours: Cost accounting (what the works council should know about figuring costs).

c. Third period, ten weeks The history of the workers and trade union movements. lst hour:

Information on items produced and problems of raw materials.

The social duties of the works councils (social 3rd hour:

security, workers' protection, etc.)

Structural changes in the economy of the Soviet Zone 4th hour: of Occupation and in Saxon economy. The foundations of planned economy.

5th hour: Political economy (Capitalism - Imperialism).

6th hour: The duties of the works council in figuring costs and fixing prices.

3. Smaller towns in Saxony will be able to make use of the same system by having classes in some central spot one or two days a week only. Subjects which cannot be covered by available lecturers may be left until the end of the course, when a qualified lecturer from the provincial headquarters of the FDGB can give a week-end course to all participants in the school. The problem of obtaining teachers will have to be solved by using not only the secretaries and employees of the FDGB, but also by persuading the higher officials (all of them members of the unions) of the political parties, local self government, industrial and trade bureaus, workers' tribunals, and insurance organizations to give one or two hours a day for this purpose. The Schools and Training Division of the provincial FDGB will attempt to issue a general outline of the various subjects to be covered, which the local groups may have reproduced for the use of their teachers and, if possible, for the use of their students.
